THE Pennſylvania GAZETTE.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

From April 11. to April 18. 1734.

From the New-England Weekly-Journal, March 25.

To the Publiſher of the Weekly-Journal.

SIR,

AS ſoon as I was favoured with a Sight of the following beautiful Production, I could not but ſuppoſe the Publication of it muſt be acceptable to the ingenious Part of your Readers. It is the fair and genuine Fruit of a conjugal Affection, and is an Inſtance of the Increaſe of Love and Admiration, even after an Entrance into the marriage Relation. Beſides the Excellence of the Subject, and the Honour that is done to the moſt happy State of Life, the Poetry, it ſelf, is ſufficient to recommend it to ſuch as are of a fine and delicate Taſte. The Poem flows with ſuch a graceful Eaſe and Freedom as if it were the pure Dictates of Nature; and yet there is ſuch a Niceneſs of Judgment obſervable in the Arrangement of its various Parts, as ſpeaks it the Product of Art in Perfection. The Author has preſented the fair Partner of his Felicity in a Light ſo pleaſing, and, I had almoſt ſaid, captivating, as will naturally create a deſire in every Reader, of knowing the beautiful Original. But neither the Lady that is here drawn in miniature, nor the excellent Artiſt that has touch'd this Picture into Life, will allow me to gratify ſuch a Curioſity. I am, &c.

TO Thee, my FAIR, I ſtring the Lyre,
The Husband owns the Lover's Fire,
Still brighter in thy growing Charms
Than when I woo'd Thee to my Arms.
In me, ye Beaus, behold in me,
The MUSE and HYMEN can agree;
The fatal Honey-moon is gone,
While Tides of Tranſport ſtronger run.

To the coy Nymph let am'rous Swains
In doleful Ditties whine their Pains;
Let their Breaſts heave with ſwelling Loads,
In dying Sighs, and Fuſtian Odes;
The Joy I feel, nor know the Care,
For Thou, my LOVE, art kind as fair.

A Thouſand Glories round Thee fly,
Smile on thy Lips, roll in thy Eye,
Good-humour, Innocence and Love,
Thro' all thy ſprightly Colours move.
But O the Extaſies that roll
Thro' the dear Beauties of her Soul!
What Eloquence glides ſoft along
The melting Muſic of her Tongue!
In every Thought what Charms combine,
What endleſs Delicacies ſhine!
My dancing Blood leaps in my Veins,
And thro' my Heart what Rapture reigns!
Ore all my Frame the Tranſports play,
And ſnatch my very Soul away.
Vain Common-place ye Poets uſe,
The Lilie fair, the bluſhing Roſe,
Diviner Sweets my Charmer grace
Than the faint Lines of Shape and Face.
Her Genius keeps my Paſſion warm,
And ſtill inſpires her graceful Form;
Thro' every Feature ſtill I find
Some Emanation of her Mind:
Soft heav'nly Vertue fills her Soul
And bleſt Religion crowns the whole.

Thus, O my WIFE my am'rous Breaſt
Shall on thy faithful Boſom reſt:
Thy Charms, the Husband ſhall rehearſe
In ſofter than the Courtier's Verſe.

From the Grubſtreet-Journal.

Mr. Bavius,

WE are inclined to think that Extravagance in Feaſting was never at ſuch a Height as now, and perhaps that Conjecture may be right in the general. But if you look into Fuller's Hiſtory of the Church, p. 92. you will find an Account of ſuch a Feaſt, as ſurely Heliogabalus himſelf never could boaſt of, and would have put him to the Bluſh. It was made by George Nevill, Brother to the Great Earl of Warwick, at his being made Archbiſhop of York, in the Year 1470, in the 10th Year of King Edward IV.

In which Feaſt was expended 300 Quarters of Wheat: 330 Tons of Ale; 104 Tons of Wine; one Pipe of ſpiced Wine; 80 fat Oxen; 6 wild Bulls: 1004 Weathers; 300 Hogs; 300 Calves; 3000 Geeſe; 3000 Capons; 300 Pigs; 200 Peacocks; 200 Cranes; 200 Kids; 2000 Chickens; 4000 Pidgeons; 400 Rabbits; 204 Bitterns; 4000 Ducks; 400 Herons; 200 Pheaſants; 500 Partridges; 4000 Woodcocks: 400 Plovers; 100 Curlews; 100 Quailes; 1000 Egretts; 200 Rees: above 400 Bucks, Does, and Roe-Bucks; 1056 hot Veniſon Paſties; 4000 cold Paſties; 1000 Diſhes of Jellies parted; 4000 Diſhes of plain Jellies; 4000 cold Cuſtards; 2000 hot Cuſtards; 300 Pikes; 300 Breames; 8 Seales; 4 Porpoiſes; 400 Tarts; 1000 Servants to attend; 62 Cooks; and 515 Kitchiners. Of which Feaſt the Earl of Warwick was Steward; the Earl of Bedford Treaſurer; the Lord Haſtings Controuler; with many more noble Officers.

This was a Feaſt more befitting a King, than an Arch-Biſhop; but perhaps he did it to let the People ſee, that he was given to Hoſpitality. But my Wonder is not only raiſed at the Extravagance of the Coſt, but alſo where they could procure all the Particulars both from Sea and Land; where they got Kitchens and Ovens to dreſs all this; where they found Places to eat it in; and laſtly, where they got People to eat it all, unleſs they invited all the Nation. But this Archbiſhop was the Phœnix Glutton of that Age. For others were as frugal, as he had been profuſe, as will appear by the following Bill of Fare, of a Feaſt had at the Wax-Chandlers Company the 28th of Octob. 1478. in the 18th Year of King Edward IVth. which was but 8 Years after the former, (viz.)

From whence may be inferred, that their Worſhips were ſpecial poor; or that Money was not very plenty; or Proviſions were very reaſonable; or that People in thoſe Days lived more within Bounds than they do now, and perhaps paid their Debts ſomewhat better alſo.

Dantzick, Nov. 13. King Staniſlaus continues to live here very retir'd, for fear any Attempts ſhould be made on his Life; and to prevent any Accidents from Poiſon, his Proviſions are all prepared at the French Ambaſſador's Houſe, and ſent to him lock'd up in little Silver Boxes, each having two Keys, one kept by his Majeſty, and the other by the Ambaſſador only.

The French talk of Marching next Year 50,000 Men for Poland, to Succour King Staniſlaus.

The Swediſh Troops are expected here in leſs than a Fortnight. King Staniſlaus has publiſhed a Manifeſto, to engage the Nobility to take Arms in his Favour; the Stile of it is very remarkable, and plainly indicates the Candour and Humility of that Monarch, viz.

GOD, ſays he, is pleaſed to chaſtiſe the Poliſh Nation ------ Whom he loveth he correcteth. Let us depend therefore that Poland is particularly in his Favour, and that he will at length diſſipate thoſe Clouds that eclipſe us. Again, The Poliſh Lords whoſe Misfortune is to take the oppoſite Party to us cannot be thought ſo corrupt in themſelves, to be the Authors of the Deſtruction of their Country; no, they are only to be eſteemed the unhappy Inſtruments of foreign Devices. Once more. How frightful a Proſpect does the late Counter-Election preſent us? In vain the Confederates attempted to poſſeſs the uſual Place of Election; Heaven denied that; and behold a Sutling-Houſe become the ſolemn Hall of Election! The Highway is converted into the ſacred Kolo! What has he to anſwer for, who is guilty of treble Perjury, as Prelate, Senator, and Gentleman, who dared proclaim a ſecond King?---- but God permitted it. He, however, will not always hide his Face: Take up his Arms, place your Confidence in him, and Succeſs ſhall ſhew the Righteouſneſs of our Cauſe.

This Manifeſto had its due Weight, and more than 4000 of the Nobility are already at the Rendezvous at Culm.

London, Nov. 30. We learn by Letters from Hanover, that 10,000 Men which his Majeſty is engaged to furniſh the Emperor, are ready to march to the Rhine, as ſoon as his Imperial Majeſty ſhall think proper to demand them. 'Tis added, that thoſe Troops are to be commanded by the General Melvil.

The Price of Inſurance here upon Ships bound to the Streights, is almoſt double, and on French Ships bound from the Levant to France it is riſen from 2 to 8 per Cent. on account of the many Privateers fitted out at Naples, Sicily Trieſt, and Turin. The Fluctuation of the Stocks has occaſion'd a great hurry in Exchange Alley; no leſs than 130,000 l. being paid laſt Wedneſday, Differences in Stock bought and ſold laſt Month; whereby ſome have gained from 10,000 to 15,000 l. each, and others have loſt as much.

Bridgetown, Barbadoes, Jan. 29.

The following Piece was ſent by a Gentleman of good Intelligence in London to his Friend here.

THE Court, and City, and the Country are at preſent ſolely intent on Three Points of the greateſt Importance. viz.

1. Peace or War; 2. Parliamentering againſt the next Election. 3. Forming Alliances with Foreign Powers, &c.

As to Peace or War; it is ſaid, that His M-----y in Council was abſolutely for a War, but Sir R. W----- for Peace, and that it was warmly debated, tho' no Concluſion as yet is particularly known.-----

The War that is already begun between the Emperor and France, &c. ſeems to threaten to extend it ſelf, beyond what was ever known before. All the Potentates of Europe, its thought muſt unavoidably embrace one Side or the other; and the Situation of the Affairs of Turkey and Perſia are ſuch, that each may eſpouſe the Party that ſhall appear to be moſt advantageous to its Deſigns and Affairs. Africa is already embroiled, and the Eaſt and Weſt Indies to be ſure will have their Share of Hoſtilities, perhaps greater than they have ever yet felt. I have it from one of His Majeſty's moſt Hon. Privy-Council, and one of the beſt experienced in theſe Matters, that he is of Opinion that we ought vigorouſly to enter into the War; but to confine our Enterprizes to the Mediterranean, and the Weſt-Indies, not to engage in a Land-War in Europe, but to be upon our Guard, and keep up our Forces to preſerve Things quiet at home, whilſt our Fleets are performing ſomething abroad for the preſent and future Honour and Advantage of the Britiſh Nation. I do not know, if we do enter into the War, but this may be the Caſe; and for my Part I wiſh it may; for I do not ſee how it is poſſible any part of the Weſt Indies can be preſerv'd to us, without ſome vigorous Efforts in our Expeditions on thoſe Parts.

Boſton, April 1. On Friday Evening laſt at Mr. Lutwytche's long Room in King Street, was held a Grand-Lodge of the Ancient and Honourable Honourable Society of Free and Accepted Maſons, where his Excellency Governor BELCHER, and a conſiderable Number of the Fraternity were preſent.

Extract from the Votes of the Hon. Houſe of Repreſentatives.

Sabbati 16 Die Februarij, A. D. 1733.

Capt. Howard from the Committee appointed yeſterday, on the Memorial of his Honour the Lieut. Governor, Captain of his Majeſty's Caſtle William, made Report, which was read and accepted; and Voted, That ſome Addition of Pay be made to the Officers and Soldiers, in order to encourage able bodied Men to inliſt into the Service, and that at the next Eſtabliſhment Proviſion be made with a ſuitable Bounty for a new Enliſtment, and likewiſe the Gunner (when his Excellency appoints one) have ſome Encouragement given him to inſtruct the Quarter-Gunners, Serjeant, Corporal and Soldiers the Art of traverſing, levelling and pointing the Great Guns, ſo that whenever the Caſtle ſhall be attack'd, a ſufficient Number of Gunners may be at Hand to manage and direct the Soldiers which his Excellency ſhall think proper to ſend to the Caſtle upon ſuch an Occaſion; and for the better training and inſtructing the ſaid Garriſon in the Art of traverſing Great Guns, that a Number of Great Guns with Shot be allowed to be fired at a Mark once a Month at leaſt. Sent up for Concurrence.

We hear from Norwich in Connecticut, That Mr. Fairchild a Butcher belonging to Rhode-Iſland, as he was paſſing thro' that Town, on the 26th of Feb. with a Drove of Cattle, and riding apace after them; his Horſe fell down, and by a moſt unhappy Turn, upon his Breaſt and Bowels, which gave him ſuch a Mortal Wound that (after all means uſed to ſave him) he died Yeſterday, and this day was decently buried.

We hear from Haddam that Mr. Richard Bogue of that Place went out to Cut Wood, on the 25th of Feb. but not returning, ſearch was made for him the next Day, and he found dead; and by the Poſture of things tis ſuppoſed that as he fell'd a large Tree, it lighted on a ſmall one, which ſpringing near the Root, ſtruck him Dead on the Spot.

A Paragraph of a Letter from Cadiz, 2d of Jan. 1733,4.

At preſent we have no apprehenſions of a War with France or Spain, the only that we are afraid of is the Salleeteens, who we find have taken nine or ten Sail, and amongſt the reſt Capt. Pike who has Loaded ſeveral times at Marblehead.

On Thurſday laſt Mr. John Flagg of Watertown was found Dead at the bottom of a Hill in Newtown; 'tis thought he was riding homewards on his Cart, and falling from the ſame, the Wheel went over his Head, it being very much bruiſed: He has left a Widow and ſeveral Children.

Boſton, April 2. On Tueſday laſt the Inhabitants of this Town met, according to Adjournment, when the Scheme for Regulating the Market was Read, and after a coſiderable Debate, voted and eſtabliſhed, and the ſame is to be preſented to the Court of General Seſſions of the Peace for the County of Suffolk, at their next Meeting, for their Approbation. The Meeting was further adjourned to Friday the 29th.

The ſame Day an unlucky Accident fell out at Stoughton, viz. The Inhabitants of that Town having been Training, and being diſmiſſed, ſeveral of the young Men fired their Guns in a very diſorderly Manner, ſtriving who ſhould make the loudeſt Report: and Wm. Colewell being very deſirous to out do the reſt, put into his Gun (as we are told) near a Quarter of a Pound of Powder, which in firing ſplit the Barrel to Pieces, ſetting Fire to a Horn of Powder in his Pocket, which flew in Pieces, and wounded him and another Man in ſo terrible a Manner, that 'tis queſtioned whether they will recover or no. It's ſaid one of them has not ſpoke a Word ſince the Accident happened. Several others were wounded by the Splinters which flew from the Gun.

On Friday laſt the Town met again, when the Committee appointed to enquire into the State of the End of the Long Wharf, preſented their Report, which was accepted, and ſeveral Gentlemen Proprietors of the Long Wharf, promiſed the Town ſpeedily to put the End of it into a proper Poſture and Condition to plant Guns upon, according to their Original Contract.

The Select Men are directed to preſent a Petition to the General Court at their Seſſion the 10th Inſt. in order to obtain of the Government the Grant of a Sum of Ten Thouſand Pounds to be lent them, to be paid in ſome future Years, and by ſuch Annual Proportion as by the Wiſdom of the Court ſhall be judg'd moſt proper.

Rhode-Iſland, March 28. On Monday Night laſt, a large Wood Boat belonging to Francis Weſt of Stonington, bound here, was Caſt away & overſet off of Point Judah, having only two Men on board; the Men got on the bottom of the Boat where they remained ſome hours, and afterwards got into the Long Boat & ſaved their Lives, being taken up at Sea by two Sloops that went out of Newport to fiſh for Cod: The Woman's Name was Sarah Merry, born at Dartmouth, being in the Boat's Cuddy was Drowned; ſhe was found next Day by the aforeſaid Sloops and carried to Block Iſland where ſhe was buried.

New-York, April 8. 1734.

On the ſecond Inſt. arrived here from Lisbon the Ship Vinyard, Capt. William Richmond, who ſays the Day he ſailed (which was the 8th of Feb.) as he lay lay below Belliſle, a Packet arrived from England; and that ſoon after her Arrival, he heard ſhe had brought the King's Speech to the Parliament, but did not ſee it; and was told his Majeſty had therein

in recommended the Making Proviſion and raiſing the neceſſary Supplies in Caſe of a Rupture, or to that Effect.

BOSTON, April 8.

This Morning Capt. Bulkley arrived here from Gibraltar, which Place he left the 7th of Feb. laſt, and informs us, that juſt before he came away ſeveral Veſſels arriv'd there in 12 or 14 days from London, and brought Advice, that the Parliament was ſitting, and that his Majeſty in his moſt Gracious SPEECH to both Houſes aſſur'd them he was determin'd not engage in a War unleſs there was the greateſt Neceſſity for it; but if a War was found unavoidable, He deſir'd the Commons to raiſe the neceſſary Supplies for the ſame: That 10 or 12 Men of War were order'd to be fitted out to be ready upon any Emergency. Capt. Bulkley heard nothing of an Embargo, nor does he think there was any likelihood of any ſuch thing. He adds further that the Sallee-men have taken 8 or 10 Engliſh Veſſels, about half of which belong'd to the Weſt of England loaden with Fiſh, and had taken about 80 Priſoners. Capt. Bulkley met with ſuch contrary Winds, that he ſuppoſes if our London Veſſels met with the ſame, they may not be expected here before the latter End of this Month.

Our Advices from ſeveral other Parts, give us the agreable Proſpect of the continuance of Peace.

We hear from South Carolina, That 'tis very ſickly there, ſeveral Hundreds dying every Week.

Philadelphia, April 18.

On Monday laſt in the Forenoon a Fire broke out in a Pot-houſe near Walnut-Street; and the Weather having been extream dry a great while together, it burnt very furiouſly, and by the Flakes of burning Shingles that were carried thro' the Air, ſeveral of the neighbouring Houſes, and ſome at a conſiderable Diſtance were ſet on fire alſo. The Pot-Houſe and a Carpenter's Shop adjoining were both conſumed; but by the Diligence and Activity of the People, and eſpecially by the Aſſiſtance of the Engines, it was prevented from ſpreading further. It is thought by ſome that the Engines ſav'd the Town ſeveral Thouſand Pounds that Day.
